

North Fork American River Alliance - NFARA

presents

Spring Thing 2014

Saturday May 31 at Dutch Flat Community Center
933 Stockton Street

Join the fun on Saturday afternoon and evening

2:00 to 4:00 PM: A natural history tour to Iron Point that includes a visit to Indian grinding rocks and spectacular views, led by Eric Peach of Protect American River Canyons.

4:00 PM: An hour walking tour of historic Dutch Flat led by Golden Drift Historical Society volunteer Jim Ricker.

7:00 PM: Presentation by Eric Peach on the recently released third edition of The American River Insiders Guide, a special showing of the video Wild & Scenic North Fork American River, and music by Paula Peach. Doors open at 6:30 PM.

Take this opportunity to learn about NFARA and discover more about the area's amazing resources.

Desserts and punch will be served.

This is a free public event.

There are limited places to eat in Dutch Flat. Bringing your own food for a picnic at the community center is a good idea. Supplies are available at the Dutch Flat Store. There is a deli at the gas station by the freeway. The Monte Vista Inn is always good; they start serving at 5:00 and reservations are requested, 530-389-2333. For information call Jim at 530 389 8344.
